

We Create Powerful Software Solutions

We offer a full range of open source services including migrating existing systems to open frameworks, custom open source-based software development, open source software customization, implementation, consulting, and training services.

OPEN SOURCE

SOFTWARE CUSTOMIZATION

Open source software provides excellent functionality and flexibility, enabling enterprise and startup businesses to gain a competitive edge and foster innovation at little or no cost. The key to utilizing open source software is finding the best fit for your business requirements and strategy. QAT Global can customize open source software for a custom fit, functionality, and design and then integrate your custom application across any type of operating system for any application — whether it's part of a larger e-Business solution or a single service.
